

Sibert, Pierson, Smith are leads in 'Tobias and Angel'

Cast members for the first University Players' production of the year have been announced by Dr. Edwin L. Clark, Players sponsor. Leading in "Tobias and the Angel" roles will be handled by Bill Pierson as Tobias, Richard Smith as the archangel and Marilyn Sibert as Sara, the heroine.

Seventeen other students will take part in bringing "Tobias" before the public. Tobias' father, Tobit, will be portrayed by Don Sarooian; Mary Rispler will play the part of Anna, Tobias' mother.

Other cast members and their roles include: Bob Hansen as Raguel, Don Blocker in the dual role of Asmodey and a bandit, Joan Harris as Sherah and Helen Burhorn as Azorah.

Attendants will be portrayed by Carol Blore, Bonnie Burgess, Jackie Zerbe and Barbara Zimmerman. Delmar Hansen will serve as stage manager, while Gary Anderson, Dale Cockerill, Sam D'Agosta, Jim Erixon and Harold Winslow handle the stage crew duties.

"Tobias and the Angel," a comedy by James Bridie, is based on the Book of Tobit from the Bible. Although the setting and costumes follow the trend of ancient times, the dialogue is modern. The play concerns the journey of Tobias and the archangel, Raphael from Nineveh, Persia, through the desert. Tobias' aim is to collect a debt owed to his blind father, Tobit.

The play ends happily as Tobias collects the debt and returns home, where Raphael cures Tobit of his blindness.

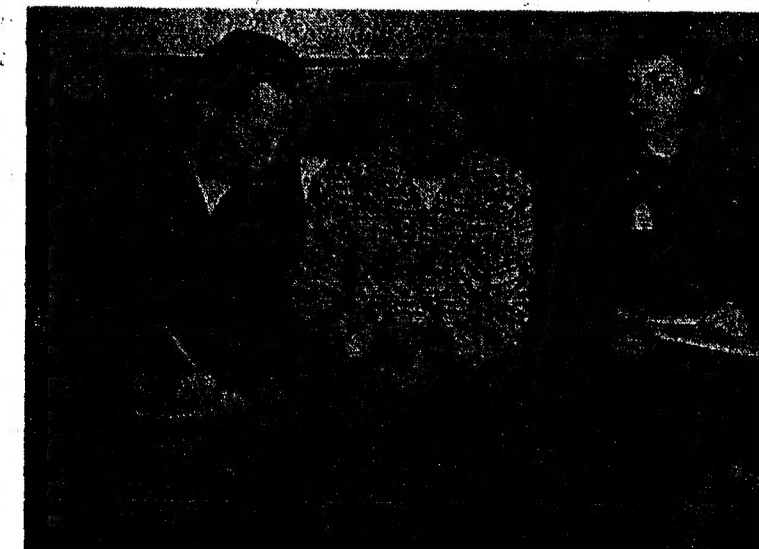

Clark commented that the staging for the play is unique for Omaha U. Approximately six costumed stage crew members will be on stage most of the time moving scenery, thereby changing scenes without dropping the curtain.

Navy team will visit Omaha U Wednesday

A US Navy procurement team will visit Omaha U Wednesday.

The team is from the Kansas City, Mo., Office of Naval Officer Procurement. The purpose of the visit is to inform students of the naval commissioning programs now available. Students may receive further information in room 274.

Naval commissioning programs are available only to graduate students and seniors who will receive their degrees in 120 days. Lt. Com. Melvin M. Tappan will head the team.

Campus Chest Collector Bill McVicker collects a dollar from Bob Brixton in the closing days of the campaign. Marilyn Everett shows she has already contributed by wearing her "We have shared" tag.

Proofs available for seniors

All seniors who have not received their appointment cards by today are urged to report to the Tomahawk office as soon as possible. The deadline for senior picture taking is next Thursday.

Proofs of senior pictures thus far taken are available in the Tomahawk office and may be taken out by the student today and returned Monday.

Morningside game, noon luncheon will be day's highlights

The dads of all Omaha University students will share in the honors tomorrow at the third annual Dads' Day celebration.

Leading off on the 1951 Dads' Day agenda is the 12:15 luncheon in the faculty clubroom and cafeteria. All students and their fathers are urged to attend. Complimentary tickets may be picked up at the lower floor ticket window today upon presentation of a student activity card.

The ticket window opened at 9:30 a. m. and will remain open until 3:30 this afternoon.

Kickoff at 2

Highlighting the Dads' Day celebration is the gridiron contest between Coach Lloyd Cardwell's Indians and their perennial foe from Sioux City, Ia., Morningside College.

The kickoff is at 2 p. m. in University Stadium.

Though the fathers won't be expected to take an active part in the contest, those having sons on the football squad will occupy sideline seats and be identified by numerals on their backs identical to those worn by their sons.

New contest

A different type of competition will be recognized Saturday though not on a scoreboard of any sort.

The student organization having the largest percentage of dads at the affair will be awarded a prize at halftime ceremonies.

W-H retailing awards go to three students

Three Omaha U students have been named as winners of World-Herald retailing scholarships.

Winners are Ray Abeita, Paul Bursik and Betty J. Karr. Miss Karr and Bursik are seniors; Abeita is a junior student.

The scholarship holders were selected by a committee from the division of business administration headed by Hurford Davison, head of the Department of Retailing. The scholarships are valued at $100.

To be eligible for the award, a student must be enrolled in the OU retailing program and must be working for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Retailing. He must also have a good scholastic standing, and reports from the student's store laboratory work must be favorable.

ROTC students will plan bombing raid Monday eve

Plans will be outlined for a bombing raid on Omaha Monday evening.

At 9:45 p. m. several OU Air Force ROTC students will show Omahans the way an air force would plan such a raid. The students will be televised on the "Door of Knowledge" program, WOW-TV.

Feature of the program will be a "briefing" for a bombing of the city by the advanced class in Air Science.

This is the second in a series of semi-monthly programs to be presented by Omaha U.

Campus Chest enters final day; students' donations lag

Despite enthusiasm sparked on the "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest and an all-school dance this afternoon, incomplete reports Wednesday showed Omaha University students lagging in their dollar per person contribution to the Campus Chest fund.

After three days of campus campaigning, Wednesday's total failed to reach the $300 mark, which is one-fifth of the $1500 goal.

However, Campus Chest Chairman George Marling remains highly optimistic for the fund reaching its goal by today.

Voting lags

Wednesday noon's report luncheon showed Theta Chi fraternity holding a slim five-point margin over its nearest competitor for highest collection honors. Theta Chi had 159 points while Theta Phi Delta was close behind with 154 points. Alpha Xi followed in third place with 123 points.

Dale Cockerill of Theta Phi Delta led Wednesday's list of individual high collectors while the names of the second and third collectors remained a mystery.

Perhaps students do not take to illegal practices. At any rate, Wednesday's total in the vote-buying contest reached only $16. Coach Ernie Gorr led the "Ugly Man" contest Wednesday. However, it was expected to hit in the neighborhood of $30 today. The "Ugliest Man on Campus" will be announced at the dance this afternoon as will the total amount garnered by the Campus Chest campaign.

Last year's Campus Chest contributions hit the $900 mark. Though it fell $800 short of the $1700 goal, the amount set a new record for OU Chest donations. The student average was 53 cents per person. At that time also, Chi Omega sorority topped all other collection organizations and gathered in the $25 prize.

As in past years, the Campus Chest funds will be distributed among three needy organizations.

Regional ISA'ers pick OU as '52 convention spot

Independent students from seven states have named Omaha University as their regional convention site for 1952.

The decision was made at the ISA Rocky Mountain Regional Convention last week-end at Colorado Springs, Colo. OU President Milo Bail sent a telegram to Colorado Springs inviting and welcoming the '52 conventioners. The convention is scheduled for next fall.

Besides winning the convention site, the OU group took the regional vice presidential post. Jane Hoff, vice president of the local organization, was named to the regional office.

Other officers include Stan Dryer, Colorado University, president; Phyllis Foster, Colorado A and M, recording secretary, and Wayne McKinnon, Colorado A and M, treasurer. The Executive Committee will take office in April of '52 following the national convention.

Russia must not take Middle East, says Louis Alber at Institute meet

Russia must not be allowed to seize the tremendous advantages of the Middle East. At all costs she must be shown that we will use any means to prevent such an occurrence. With this issue, Louis J. Alber addressed the Institute of World Affairs Wednesday evening in the auditorium.

Speaker Alber pointed to the numerous advantages sought in the Middle East by many nations as not being confined to the vast oil fields alone.

Oil needs

He gave four definite reasons for the silent struggle for power in the Middle East. They include the 365 million Moslem inhabitants, strategic waterways connecting the East with the West, the impossibility of flying a plane around the world without stopping somewhere in

War unlikely

Lecturer Alber traveled extensively in the Middle East this summer, studying the advance of the Soviet Union there. He warned that Russia is making definite advances and desperately needs Middle Eastern oil. He added that, "This might drive her to war."

OU plays host to magazine editors at fourth Institute

Omaha University played host to house magazine editors yesterday at the meeting of the fourth annual House Magazine Institute in the university auditorium.

V. J. Skutt, president of Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, spoke on the "Value of Communication to Management" at the noon luncheon. The theme of the institute was "Building Readership" for the private publications.

Walter Strang, editor of the "Northwestern Bell" publication, presided at the dinner.

Another featured speaker of the Institute was Alfred H. Clague, art director of the Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc., of Minneapolis. He spoke on "Disclosures that Out-Kefauver" at the evening banquet at the Blackstone Hotel.

The opening address was delivered by O. M. Forkert, president of O. M. Forkert and Associates, graphic art consultants of Chicago. He spoke on "Layout, Art and Production."

The afternoon program featured a panel discussion on "Down to Earth Fundamentals." Horace L. Rosenblum, editor of the Woodmen of the World Magazine, was panel leader.

The Institute was sponsored jointly by the Department of Journalism of the university and the Omaha chapter of the Society of Associated Industrial Editors. The Omaha group is headed by Chalm Houghton, editor of Hinky-Dinky News.

Frosh talent tryouts attract 20 takers

"Mostly Musical" was Freshman Class Secretary Jean Madden's interpretation of the 20 acts that auditioned for the Freshman Talent Show. Auditions were held Tuesday afternoon, and the show will be presented Nov. 20 in the auditorium.

Judges for the competition were Dr. Edwin L. Clark, director of dramatics; Dr. Robert W. Fiester, band director; Ormsby Harry, assistant dean of students, and Jerry Welling, Sally Westin, and Jean Madden, Freshman Class officers.

Results will be announced later.

Yale has won five intercollegiate polo championships.

Joe Perrault of Iron Mountain, Mich., holds the American record for ski jumping with a leap of 297 feet.

Officer 2 tags violators at OU

By Marty Blacker

Do you drive a car to school? If so, do you insist on parking it in driveways, in 30 minute zones for two hours, or just straddling those white lines so that you've taken up two spaces?

Beware. The little man in the blue suit is watching YOU. He signs "Officer 2" to his calling card, vulgarly referred to as traffic ticket.

Mrs. Nick Adzick of the university business office reported that "Officer 2" nabs about six parking violators per day. These careless students are given three days to either "pay willingly or pay under protest." When presented with the choice one student complained, "Let's face it, either way I'm out."

If a student believes he has a legitimate complaint, he may file an appeal to the traffic appeal board which meets every Monday afternoon. The board consists of J. E. Woods, an instructor at the university, and Student Council members George Marling and Joan Bugbee.

If a student is a persistent offender, the fines are progressively higher. It was unanimously approved that the money from such fines go to the student union fund, not to "Officer 2," as one offender charged.

Officer 2, champion of the Student Union, defender of the white line, guardian of your fundamental right to a legal parking place, will be watching you next time you have the family wheels.

Monday marks deadline for draft dodgers

Students who expect to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test on Dec. 13 must have their applications post-marked no later than next Monday.

Applications may be obtained at the Local Draft Board at 1218 Farnam St.

Dr. Fiester writes Omaha U fight song

A new fight song was introduced to OU students at the Homecoming football rally on the steps of the Court House. The song was written by Dr. Robert Fiester, band director.

For the benefit of those who didn't get a copy of the words, The Gateway is publishing the lyrics.

FIGHT SONG

We will fight, fight, fight for Omaha,
We will fight, fight, fight for OU,
Ev'ry players knows
Till the whistle blows
We will fight, fight all the way through.

We will fight, fight, fight for Omaha,
We will fight, fight, fight with all our might,
Be it win or lose or draw,
As loyal sons of Omaha,
We will fight, fight, fight, fight, fight.

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

Let's Brag

Isn't it amazing the way we humans are trained to be polite and unpretentious throughout our lives? And isn't it true that at least once everyone of us would like to forget about the manners of polite society and stoop so low as to be a bunch of "show-offs"?

Most everyone would agree that it would be very self-satisfying to let down his hair for one day and to go so far as to admit, "Look at me—I'm showing off, and I'm proud of it."

Undoubtedly few people have a chance to do this—without being frowned upon by others. But there is a select group that will be able to do it tomorrow.

Once a year at OU the students have a chance to show off their dads at the annual Dads' Day. This is a day set aside to honor not one, but all of the dads of Omaha U students. A full day for their pleasure—and the students'—is planned by the Student Council so that the dads can really see what Omaha University has to offer.

The students have a chance to show dad, and to show him off. This is only the third year that such an event has been planned, but rumors are that it will be one of the biggest.

Tomorrow is the day when everyone is going to do his share of bragging. Why not show your university off to your dad—and show your dad off to your university?

Air ROTC announces rifle squad

Members of the Omaha University Air Force ROTC Rifle Team have been appointed by M/Sgt. William M. Swink. These 12 men will compete with the University of Kansas team tomorrow for their first match of the year.

The rifle team members are Franklin E. Sedlacek, Raymond D. Hampton, Darrell D. Cox, Clifford Carmony Jr., Gilbert W. Davis, Robert Biegel, Ronald Benson, Bertrand E. Shields, Samuel Georges, Gene Lyman, Raymond Neaman and Charles R. Forrey Jr.

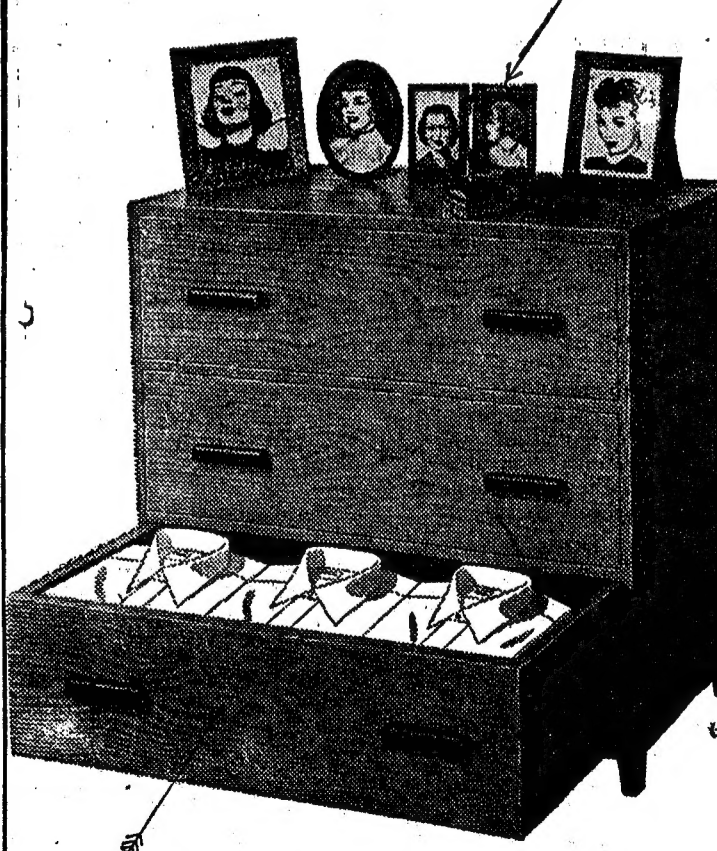

Omaha University will compete with the University of North Carolina on Jan. 26, and Ohio Wesleyan on Feb. 19.

The matches will be fired on the new rifle range in the University Fieldhouse. All matches will be "postal matches" in which the contending teams fire on their home ranges and exchange scores for comparison.

The Air Force ROTC team has also scheduled matches in the Inter-city Rifle League. The first match will be fired against the Union Pacific team on Nov. 17. Rounding out the season's schedule are matches in the Inter-city ROTC league, comprised of Omaha University and the six ROTC high schools in Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Fillers aid the editor as 'board stretchers' help the carpenter

People engaged in newspaper or magazine publication are plagued by a million and one problems. Perhaps the most trying experience for an editor is have all the necessary copy assembled and suddenly discover that none of it fits where it should.

Consequently, unless something is done about it, there will be blank spaces at the foot of each column. This, he finds, will never do.

What is needed to fill out the columns are some short stories, but not enough events can be written in ten or even fewer words. In newspaper jargon, these few words stuck in to fill out the page are called "fillers."

Some publications use humor for fillers, but who ever heard of telling a "Pat and Mike" joke in less than ten words?

The fillers ordinarily consist of short historical or statistical facts. Now these fillers serve only one purpose: to fill out the page. What they say is of little consequence. No one reads them anyway. However, a person would notice a blank space on the printed page and think he was short-changed. After all, he paid a nickel for the "rag" and it is only fair that he receive his money's worth.

Pick up your daily newspaper and look for these little gems of wit and fact. Who writes 'em? Hard to tell, but possibly some struggling journalist who swears he'll be editor yet.

Snack Shack personnel find help in bread shortage in chain store, lucrative source

By Dottie Hayes

Students blaming the loss of last Saturday's football game and the flunking of quarterly exams on the bread strike are finding holes in their excuses. Donut holes, that is.

It seems that contrary to popular belief, Omaha University's cafeteria and Snack Shack are serving bread with their sandwiches. Not only that but students can get all of the rolls and donuts they want at non-blackmarket prices.

The amazing deed is being accomplished by Miss Carolyn Auten, cafeteria manager. Last week's Gateway story had Miss Auten hoping for another "Loaves and Fishes" miracle of The Bible. This week she is following the old proverb, "God helps those who help themselves." Miss Auten goes to a local Safeway store and picks up around 25 loaves of bread a day.

The most unhappy people on campus, however, seem to be the dieting coeds who can't stand to go breadless. Whole wheat bread having the least of the calorie evils is also the least possible to obtain now.

Glancing through a newspaper the other day, I came upon the following fillers: Rubber was first used by the Indian tribes of the Americas . . . The U. S. has not had a whaling ship in the Antarctic, where most whales are caught, since 1940 . . . Counterparts of the Arctic Lights are seen in the Antarctic . . . The National Geographic Society reports that there are nearly 100,000 movie theaters in the world . . . The U. S. uses about two-thirds of the world's oyster consumption . . . Sulfur was discovered along the Gulf coast by oil drillers about 1900.

As you read further they get worse and worse. There are almost 1,897 "Farmer's Daughter" jokes in American humor . . . 50 per cent of all married couples are women . . . Socialist presidential candidate interviewed

I dropped into the Ad-Sell League the other night to hear Norman Thomas speak on Foreign Policy. After the town hall debate and open question period was over, I went backstage to meet the man I had heard so many times on the "Town Meeting of the Air" and had read so much about in political science.

Norman Thomas, although no longer a young man, is still very much a dynamic personality. He radiates confidence and authority—very much like the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

I asked him quite a few questions, as did the small group that crowded around him at the conclusion of the meeting.

Thomas feels that the British elections prove little or nothing about the value of the social planning program in England. Since the Conservatives plan no change in the government control of nationalized industries, he argues, why point to Great Britain as the repudiator of Socialism? The real reason labor lost in England, Mr. Thomas asserted, is the "sloppy" way the Laborites handled Iran and Egypt.

Socialism, Thomas argued, is the only sensible alternative for the United States and the world. "Socialism offers all the good features of Communism," he stated, "without the nasty features such as MVD and loss of fundamental freedom to worship and belief."

Frosh hazing should include leap at donut, not wall

Hazing is still in vogue at other colleges and universities around the nation, but here at OU, a "typical" college, the frosh have no fears of being bullied by the "old men."

At the University of Redlands, Calif., a frosh ended up at the local "bone menders" with a fractured vertebra as a result of a nocturnal hazing.

The "new men" were depants-ed in a cemetery and told to "skedaddle." One took a flying leap at a wall, cleared it, but crashed to the pavement, eight feet below.

Furman frosh

Frosh at Furman University, S.C. are known as "rats." They receive the following rules from the upperclassmen: rats are to tip their hats to all upperclassmen, a copy of the student handbook is to be in the rats' rooms at all times, and a Confederate flag is to be raised on campus each morning by a rat.

From the Kansas State Collegian comes the following story: "Cigars at the TKE house Wednesday night announced the engagement of Wayne Stoller and Betty Ralston, both of Sabetha. . ." That should have been good.

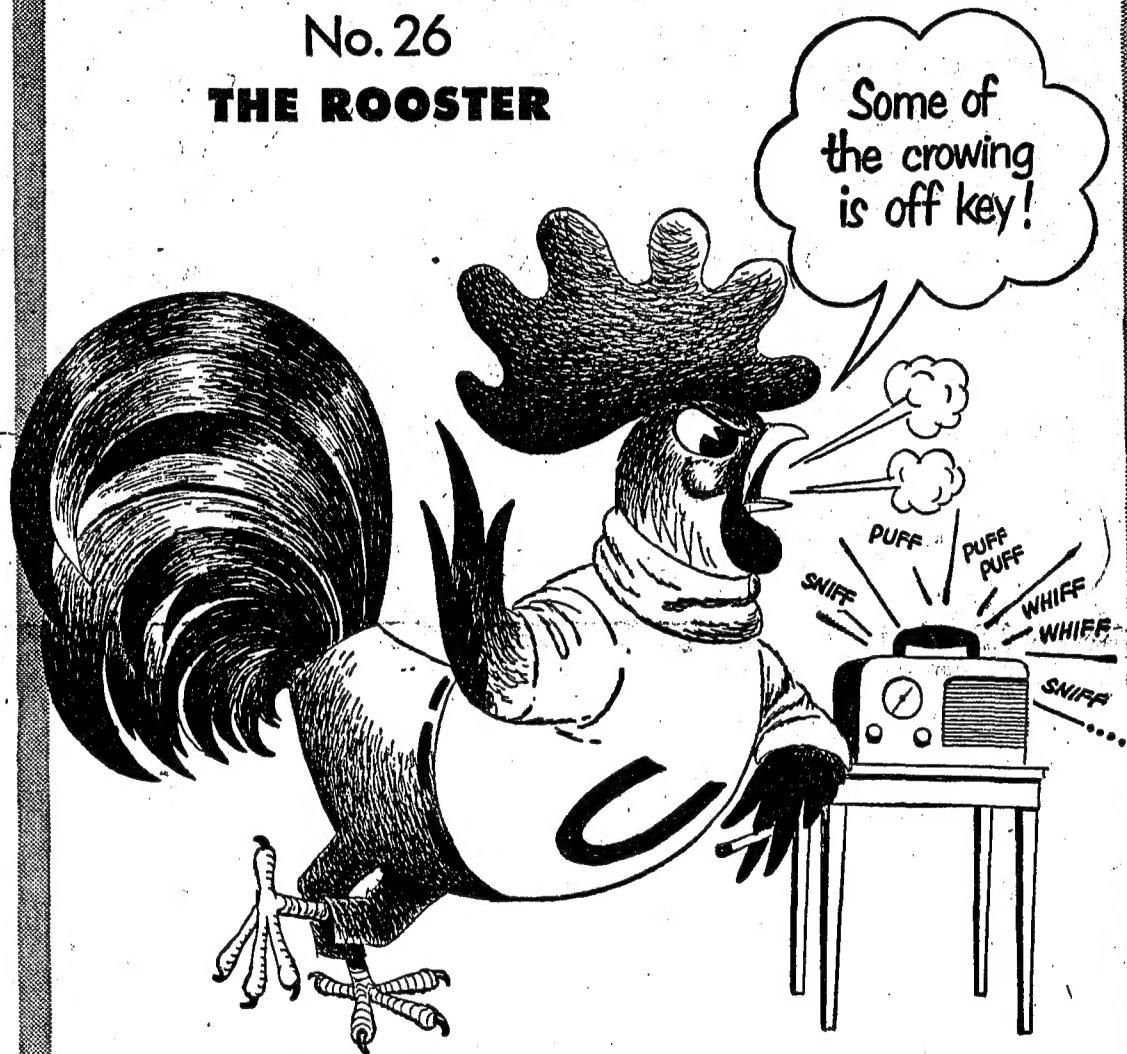

Cheatin' Ohio

It doesn't pay to cheat at Ohio State U. Minimum punishment is failure of the course and an added five hours on requirements for graduation.

Omaha faces invading Maroon team in annual university Dads' Day tilt

Tomorrow the Indians from Omaha University will try to bounce back into the win column as they take on the invading Morningside eleven.

The Maroons are sporting a 3-4 record so far this year, as last week they dropped a 27-7 decision to the Iowa State Teachers.

It will be Dads' Day on the Omaha campus tomorrow and the players' fathers will have a luncheon at noon and then sit together to watch their sons battle on the gridiron in the afternoon.

Tannahill in suit

Omaha will be at full strength for the Maroons, as Jerry Tannahill will be in suit. Tannahill was injured in the Emporia tilt and missed last week's trip to Detroit.

The Morningside-Omaha U series is the oldest rivalry in Omaha history. It dates back to 1935 and the two teams met every year until 1941 when football was dropped at the university for the duration. The two teams met again in 1947 and have fought it out every year since.

Last season the Indians dropped a 20-6 game, and the series now stands tied. Each squad has won five games and they have tied once.

Two teams even

Omaha-Morningside games are always hotly contested, as the past records show that they are always evenly matched. Neither team has beaten the other by more than two touchdowns.

Three Omaha lads grace the roster of the Maroons. Dick Weikert, Larry Harpster and Gerald Lawson are the Omahans at the Sioux City school. All three are from Omaha Tech and are standouts.

Weikert is the starting fullback for the Maroons and is a dangerous ball carrier.

Lawson specializes

Larry Harpster is a guard, and Lawson is the starting center and also the extra point specialist for Morningside.

Jack Reardon is another Maroon that will probably be in the Indians' hair all afternoon. Reardon is the left end on offense and a slashing right tackle on defense.

The Omaha defense will see plenty of Tony Levito, as he is the leading ground gainer of the Morningside backfield to date.

Indian starters will be Bob Rose and Don Maseman at ends, Dick Lane and Howard Byram at tackles, Jack Annin and Rich Moscrey at guards, Larry Johnson at center. The backs will be Jerry Welling, Keith Christie, John Potts and Jerry Ziehe.

Southern California team visits university gridiron

Southern California, the number seven team in the nation, went through light drills at the OU Stadium yesterday.

The Trojans are en route for New York where they will meet Army tomorrow. In season play to date, Southern Cal has a five win, one loss record; but the bright spot in the picture was a 20-14 victory over previously undefeated California U.

Army's only triumph so far this year is over Columbia, 14-9.

Blackhawk team remains on undefeated trail, hands Theta Phi Delta first football loss

Blackhawks remained the only unbeaten team in the intramural double elimination tourney. The Hawks dropped Theta Phi Delta into the loser's bracket with a 6-0 triumph, Monday. Larry Micheels took a 15-yard pass from Jack Danze for the only score.

B-45's, the air force eleven, filed a formal protest over their loss to ISA via penetration. If the B-45's protest is valid, the game will be replayed today; but if the contest stands as is, the Independents will play Sigma Phi Epsilon today.

Sig Eps cop

The Sig Eps took the measure of Theta Chi by penetration and Phi Epsilon Pi 21-0 to enter into the third round of the loser's bracket.

Monday Thetas will meet the winner of the ISA-Sig Eps fray to gain the nod against the Blackhawks in the finals.

Blackhawks also maintained the lead in the 'mural bowling loop by nudging ISA 2-1. Sig Eps dropped three games to Theta's while Sig Lambs and Phi Epsilon Pi took two out of three from Theta Chi and F-80's respectively.

Cage Coach schedules first basketball drills

Although several of the key men returning for basketball wars this year are on the football squad, Head Coach Don Pflasterer plans to get the workouts into full swing by the first of next week.

Cage lettermen on the football team include Bob Rose, last season's leading scorer; Joe Gurnett, defensive standout; Tom Mosiman, sharpshooter up from the Papooses; and Keith Christie, peppery guard.

Basketball veterans who are not taking part in the pigskin sport are Bob Moscrey, Don Claussen, Lee Nelson, Herb Skelnar and Larry Micheels.

Gone from the 1951 cage team are center Bob Stedman and guards Joe Arenas and Don Fitch.

Last year's crew attained the best OU post-war record with 13-10 slate. The highlight of the 1950-51 campaign was a 47-35 victory over Wayne of Detroit.

Baker tops

Gordon Baker, Blackhawks, rolled the season's high game with a 231 total and he also topped the year's high series record with a 571 sum.

Theta Phi Deltas 625 team game is still high for the campaign and their 1,790 team game is still high for the campaign and their 1,790 team series also is the highest to date.

Inter-fraternity touch football is slated to get under way, Wednesday when Sig Eps square off against Phi Eps.

Sig Eps copped a sweepstakes win from Phi Epsilon Pi earlier, 21-0. Theta Phi Delta faces Theta Chi on November 9, Friday.

All intramural managers can obtain their 'mural handbooks at Intramural Director Ernie Gorr's office.

Decker brothers tackle tough job--student managers

By Bob Peck

Hats off to the Decker brothers!

This is not the name of an automobile agency or a law firm. This is the name of Marvin and Melvin Decker who hold what is probably the most unheralded job at the university.

They are the student managers of the 1951 Indian football team.

When attending a football game, one always aware of the excitement of the game and who is winning, but seldom does one notice the student managers, who probably work harder than the players.

Hours long

The two Decker boys spend many an hour toiling for the team. They arrive at the supply room around noon and it is usually after 6 p.m. before they leave.

Their duties vary widely, from rushing water to the players during timeouts, to shining the football players' shoes for every game.

Also, they must take care of the uniforms, hand out racks and take care of all equipment used by a football squad.

But all the life of the student manager has its rewards, too. For instance, Marvin and Melvin were included on the traveling roster when the team went to Detroit.

North alums

The Decker twins are both freshman from Omaha North.

Anyone who thinks that a student manager doesn't work hard should try to get an interview with one during football practice.

Aroused Tartars massacre Omaha gridders in Detroit

Outweighed, outmanned and outfought, Omaha University was snowed under by an avalanche of Wayne Tartars, 62-9, in Detroit last Saturday night.

Obviously incensed over last year's Indian victory and their sorry showing to date, the Wayne gridders ran rampant in the first quarter to establish an early 28-0 lead.

Omaha saved complete loss of face by countering a touchdown and a safety in the last period.

Keith Christie flipped a 30-yard aerial to Bob Rose on the Tartar five. From there, Christie bolted the remaining yardage for paydirt and Aksel Schmidt toed the point.

Omaha two

In the waning seconds of the game, Bob Doyle mobbed Wayne quarterback Richard Brown in the end zone for an Omaha two points.

But by the time the Indians got rolling, the Tartars had amassed nine touchdowns and eight extra points.

Waynes' two quarterbacks, Brown and Richard Lisbeth, proved to be the downfall of the Red and Black. Brown threw two scoring tosses and set up another with a long pass.

Wayne scores

Lisbeth ran 82 yards for a fourth period tally and converted eight out of nine extra points. Elbert Richmond and Gary Bailargeon each romped into the end zone with two Wayne scores.

The Omaha cause was not helped with the absence of Neil Apker, letterman guard with a bad knee, and Jerry Tannahill, rookie halfback who is out with bruised stomach muscles.

Joe Gurnett was sidelined on the way to the Motor City with an abscessed tooth and required a dentist's care in Detroit.

Babe Ruth's over-all pay for 23 years was $925,000.

In 1949, Don Clausen of Kenosha, Wis., won the junior one-mile bicycle championship with a 2:25.8 clocking.

The National Open Chess Championship was played in Omaha in 1949.

The second Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey fight drew a $2,658,660 gate.

The record for trout fly-casting is held by Dick Miller of Huntington Park, Calif., with a 176%-foot cast.

Grid tournament race narrows to four foes

Sweepstakes competition in the double elimination grid tournament has narrowed the field to four teams. Blackhawks are the only undefeated eleven, but ISA, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Theta Phi Delta are still in the running with one loss apiece.

B-45's, Theta Chi, Sigma Lambda Beta, Phi Epsilon Pi and B-36's have absorbed two setbacks and are out of the picture.

Football standings:

Blackhawks	3	0	1.000
Sigma Phi Epsilon	3	1	.750
ISA	2	1	.667
Theta Phi Delta	2	1	.667
B-45's	2	2	.500
Theta Chi	1	2	.333
Phi Epsilon Pi	0	2	.000
B-36's	0	2	.000

Bowling standings:

Blackhawks	8	1	.889
Sigma Lambda Beta	7	2	.778
Sigma Phi Epsilon	5	4	.556
Theta Phi Delta	5	4	.556

Theta All-Greek Formal set tonight; 'Outstanding Sorority Girl' will reign

Haddad band will play for annual dance

Omaha U's "1951 Outstanding Sorority Girl" will reign at the dance. She will be elected by Greeks attending the affair and the winner will be crowned during the intermission ceremony. Greeks will vote from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Candidates for the title include Syntha Judd, Alpha Xi Delta; Diane Purdy, Chi Omega; Darlyne O'Brien, Sigma Kappa, and Jean Salladay, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Barbara Haughness, Chi Omega, first winner of the title, will present the "1951 Outstanding Sorority Girl" in the absence of Jackie Geilus, Zeta Tau Alpha, last year's winner.

Intermission entertainment will include the introduction of a new Theta Phi Delta song by the Theta Octette.

The Carter Lake Club will be decorated with stars on the ceiling and bandstand. An 8 ft. replica of the Theta Phi Delta pin will stand outside the door.

Sponsors for the formal dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Robert Emery, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Clark, Mr. and Mrs. William Ut-

Jim Daley is dance chairman. Assisting him with the arrangements are Don Chase, Sam D'Agosta, Bob Keim, Bob O'Neill, Bob Darrah, and Jim Dubois.

Registration of motor vehicles in Nebraska this year is estimated at 596,000, representing a 4.7 per cent increase over the 569,497 registered in 1950.

Sig Lambs fete Greeks at weiner roast tomorrow eve

Sigma Lambda Beta will entertain OU Greeks and their dates at their weiner roast tomorrow evening at 7:30. The party will be held at Millard, Nebr. Transportation will be provided for those needing it by meeting in the OU parking lot at 7 p.m.

Group singing, games, skits and entertainment will set the pace for the informal outdoor gathering. Sig Lambs will provide the food.

Ray Abeita is in charge of arrangements for the party.

Directions to the picnic grounds are as follows: Go out Dodge Street and turn left at the Ten Mile Inn. Travel four and one-half miles south until you arrive at the fork turning right to Millard. Turn left here. There will be a farm, three houses and then the picnic grounds. Stop! That's it.

Sponsors for the picnic are Mrs. Ernestine Bottlemey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Rye and Dr. and Mrs. R. Harper.

Sigmas discuss budget revision

Sigma Kappa fought the "Battle of the Budget" at their meeting last Monday night. The group divided into two "camps" on ways and means of designing the future budget.

Final plans were approved for the sorority Barn Dance to be held Nov. 10 at Inspiration Point. Darlene Lesh and Lois Disney were appointed to handle refreshments. Social Chairman Jodie Pierce is in charge of the affair.

Basic plans for the Violet Formal to be held Dec. 7 at the Carter Lake Club were discussed. A trio, Jean Cullen, Jodie Pierce and Clarine Lane, has been tentatively planned as part of the intermission entertainment.

'Ugly Man', top collector to share honors at dance

OU students will celebrate the Campus Chest victory at a dance this afternoon in the Student Center. A new school dance band under the direction of Bruce Roberts will play for the event from 2 to 4 p.m.

George Marling, Campus Chest chairman, will announce the organization with the most points and high collection for the chest drive. The winning organization will be given a $25 check to be donated to the charity of its choice.

OU's "Ugly Man" will also be revealed at the dance. Students voted for their "Ugly Man" by contributing their pennies to the Campus Chest. APO gave each candidate one point for each penny donated in his behalf.

Jim Townsend is in charge of arrangements for the dance. Faculty sponsors are Paul Crossman, Eugene Hampton, William Utley and Robert McGranahan.

All students are invited to the dance.

Play day held for OU women

Saturday was "Tom Boy Day" at Elmwood Park for members of Omaha University Women's Intramurals.

During the morning 25 girls participated in games of football, basketball and baseball. Bowling was the main event after lunch.

Gayle Fried acted as general chairman for the play day. Miss Marjorie Bauman, physical education teacher, sponsored the group.

Thetas hold party

A Halloween party opened the season on monthly Theta Phi Delta parties last Saturday. Members and their dates gathered at the YMCA auditorium dressed in jeans for an informal good time.

Bob Russell and Sam D'Agosta planned games, prizes and refreshments.

ISA council will initiate

Independents will hold their initiation ceremonies for new members tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 11 p.m. The candlelight ceremony will be at the Benson Park Pavilion.

The ISA executive council will preside at the initiation. The council includes Dean Brown, Jane Hoff, Jo Olsen, Nancy Will, and Virginia Layher.

Dancing will follow the initiation. Refreshments will be served. Jane Hoff is in charge of arrangements.

Pep club plans halftime show

Pinfeathers will swing into action at the football game Saturday honoring the dads of OU students. The freshman pep organization will do card displays during the half time activities.

President Pat Cosford said that 35 girls had joined the group. She urged all girls to attend the next regular meeting Tuesday at 12:15 in the Women's Physical Education Hut.

Honor sorority admits four girls to membership

Four women will be activated this afternoon into Alpha Lambda Delta. Laura Dopita, Joan Thorsen, Carol Wetzel and Sue Yetter will be initiated at 4:30 p.m. in the faculty clubroom. In order to become eligible for membership, each compiled a 3.5 average for their freshman year.

Delta Sigs initiate over this weekend

Delta Sigma Pi will hold an informal initiation tomorrow night. A formal initiation following on Sunday will be at the Rome Hotel at 8 p.m.

New members will be Charles Cavanaugh, Richard W. Peterson and C. Glen Lewis, instructor in business administration.

Installing officers are Bob Costello, Jim Chapman and Avery Hiddleston.

Alpha Xi's pledges skip Hallowe'en nite

Alpha Xi Delta pledges won by a mile Wednesday night. They took advantage of Hallowe'en night and skipped the regular meeting.
